

7 June 2017

Dear Inaburra School Community,

I write to inform you that our Principal, Mr. Tim Bowden has advised the Board that he has been offered and accepted the position of Headmastership at Trinity Grammar School at Summer Hill in Sydney. Tim will finish at Inaburra School at the end of 2017 and commence his new role on 1 January 2018.

This is Tim's 7th year with the school and over that time he has shown strong leadership and dedication to his role. His passion for the missional outreach of the school are as strong today as when he first commenced. His legacy will be a significant improvement in teaching, learning and pastoral care, and a much improved environment with the opening of new facilities and a more coherent precinct for students. He has also built a strong and dedicated executive team who will continue to move the school forward.

As a Board and school community we will be sorry to see Tim leave the school; however, we wish him every success at Trinity Grammar. We have commenced the process of recruitment and appointment of a new Principal for Inaburra School. The Board has appointed AISNSW Executive Recruitment to assist with the recruitment process with a view to appointing a new Principal for the start of Term 1, 2018.

There will be opportunities to express our appreciation and gratitude to Tim over the remainder of 2017, but I would like to take this opportunity to thank Nikki Bowden for her great support of Tim and the School throughout his time at Inaburra.

In 2017 it has been fantastic to celebrate with you the 35th Anniversary of the commencement of Inaburra School by Menai Baptist Church. So much has been achieved over that period and the Board and Staff are focused on continuing to move Inaburra School forward and equip students for an ever changing world.

Yours sincerely,

Mr Robert Dougall
